ADRIANA RAMIĆ

MAY 1980
BOSANSKI NOVI

When my father was working as a computer programmer in former Yugoslavia, he coded ASCII characters into a program to produce dot matrix images.

As an example, he used an image of Tito, and printed hundreds. Many people took them home.

Tito died the next day.

Immediately afterwards, the police came to inquire about my father, paranoid and suspicious of the correlation between the generated imagery and Tito's death.

MAJ 1980
BOSANSKI NOVI

Kad je moj otac radio kao kompjuterski programer u bivšoj Yugoslaviji, on je upisivao slova u program da napravi štampane slike.

On je tako jednom napravio kompjutersku sliku Tita, i odštam-pao je stotine slika. Mnogo ljudi su odnijeli te slike kući.

Tito je umrijeo idućeg dana.

Odmah poslije toga, milicija je došla da se raspita o mom ocu, paranoidni i sumnjičavi oko veze između proizvedenih slika i Titove smrti.
